CHANGING THE PERCEPTION: One month at a time.

The perception of Atlantic City's Police force is not true NOW----Much has changed since the 2018, Force Report.

On December 11, 2023, the Chief's presentation will present the data before 2018 and showing the progress made in 2023.

Another year has passed, and their performance has continued to improve. However, although we have more NCO's who are doing very well, we now have four in each ward, there is a constant demand for more walking on the streets.

The CAB agrees that for a safe community, we must invest in community-based prevention programs. Moving toward new perceptions involving all partnerships who must step it up a notch.

Therefore, as we move forward, we again request all identities, to support the same total of police which we had years before the 2018 Force Report of four hundred police.

It is the CAB's yearly conclusion, that the Atlantic City Police department has continued the responsibly of public concerns in the quality of police community relations, regarding frequency of police contact, response time, and proactive police initiatives.

However, the goal is to have a city where police walk the streets and where there are no negative perceptions.

Created in 2018, due to the Jim Johnson Report, with the approval of Mayor, and Council the CAB meets monthly with Chief James Sarkos, and members of the Police department in its effort in making the Police department, "AC's Finest."
